Vance Named Gov.-Elect Of Civitans

Coffield Vance of the Murray Civitan Club was elected Governor-Elect of Kentucky District of Civitan International for the 1975-76 year at the meeting held May 30 and 31 at Bowling Green.

Vance will then serve as Governor of Kentucky Civitans for 1976-77 with his election as governor-elect.

Elected lieutenant governors by areas were: Bob Storey, Lexington, Area 1; Bob Green, Winchester, Area 2; the Rev. Harding Lowrey, Louisville, Area 3; Jim Wilkins, Bowling Green, Area 4; Jim Clark, Owensboro, Area 5, and Rodney Cheatum, Cadiz, Area 6.

Jack Keeney, Bowling Green, took over as governor for this year, succeeding John Martin, Bowling Green.

The service organization presented its club of the year award to Frankfort while Hopkinsville won the best club project award.

Wayne Williams, Murray club president, said President-elect Don Alley will report on a recent Civitan state meeting and his pending international meeting in Florida at the Murray club meeting on Thursday, June 5, at seven p. m.

Also at the Thursday meeting members will be updated on school affairs with Supt. William Miller of the Calloway County Schools and Supt. Fred Schultz of the Murray City Schools briefing Civitans on the problems, trends, and successes of their respective systems, Williams said.

Week Dedicated To Removal Of Abandoned Cars

Proclaimed "Junked Car Removal Week" by Calloway County Judge Pro Tem Helen S. Spann, the week of June 1-7 will be dedicated to the location of abandoned cars by the local 4-H clubs.

"The proclamation acknowledges the month of June as set aside for the removal of junked cars, and the first week of the month specifically for location of, and getting owner's permission to remove the automobile," said Mrs. Spann.

Release forms, which must be signed and witnessed by two people, are available at and must be returned to the Calloway County Extension Office on Maple Street. Turned over to the 4-H clubs by the fiscal court, the project is being co-sponsored by the Kentucky state department for natural resources and environmental protection, which is furnishing the truck, driver and fuel for the program.

"Junked cars are an eye-sore, and distract from the natural beauty of our county's resources. Greatly appreciated by citizens in the past, we hope the project is a great success this summer, too," Mrs. Spann added.

Several Appear In Circuit Court

Several persons appeared in criminal court before Circuit Judge James Lassiter today as Calloway Circuit Court continued here.

Carl "Red" Duncan, indicted for housebreaking, was sentenced to six months in jail after pleading guilty, according to the office of Circuit Court Clerk James Blalock.

Randy Lawson, charged with two counts of arson, pleaded guilty and received a sentence of one year on each count. The sentence was deferred by the court, pending a ruling on a motion for probation.

Several other cases were to be heard this afternoon, for ruling by Judge Lassiter.

City Clerk Stanford Andrus Hospitalized

City Clerk Stanford Andrus is reported in stable condition today in intensive care at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

According to Mrs. Andrus, his doctor has not as yet confirmed a diagnosis of a coronary attack, pending further tests. Mrs. Andrus said that he is doing better today, after being admitted Sunday.

Yesterday was the first Sunday in 34 years that Mr. Andrus has not attended at least one service at First Baptist Church here.

Keeping 'Em Down On The Farm

One hundred and two Murray State University students, including 40 co-eds, are being trained for possible summer employment through a two-week Orientation to Farm Work Seminar being conducted on the University's 365-acre laboratory farm.

Upon completion of the seminar, designed to familiarize the students with general farm work, they will be assisted by University personnel and the Bureau of Manpower Services, Frankfort, in finding employment on a farm for the summer months.

Eight hours per day of instruction and practical application in all phases of general farm work—clearing fence rows, stringing fences, building and equipment maintenance as well as the feeding and management of livestock—is being provided with members of the agriculture faculty at Murray State in charge.

Each participant is being paid a weekly wage of $85 plus $35 for meals and lodging for the period of the seminar.

Ford Extends Economic Aid To Egypt As Talks With Sadat End

SALZBURG, Austria (AP) — President Ford concluded intensive summit talks with Egypt's Anwar Sadat today and said he would unveil a Middle East peace-seeking formula within the next month.

Ford also declared, at a windup luncheon with the Egyptian president, that the United States will extend bilateral economic aid to Egypt. He did not go into detail about the aid plan.

Sadat said he looks forward to welcoming Ford to Cairo. White House sources said no plans for a presidential visit to Egypt have been made at this point.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, asked how the talks had gone, told a newsman, "in the upper range" of U.S. expectations.

Appearing earlier before reporters with Sadat at his side, Ford declared he has yet to make final decisions on the peace-seeking plan.

Speaking in English, Sadat said he will return to Cairo to confer with his associates on approaches to peace, adding, "I shall be always in contact with President Ford," whom he invited to visit Egypt.

Sadat, appearing with Ford, said the big achievement of the summit was to establish a personal relationship with the American leader.

As Ford and Sadat spoke, Israeli Premier Yitzhak Rabin announced in Jerusalem that Israel will withdraw half its tanks and men and all its artillery 24 miles from the Suez Canal as a peace gesture to Egypt for reopening the waterway.

"The government of Israel considers the renewal of international shipping as an important and constructive development," Rabin said of the scheduled opening of the canal on Thursday. He said the reduction of Israel's front line troops by half is intended to contribute to the "relaxation of military tension in the area."

The Israelis previously said reopening of the waterway was in Egypt's self-interest and did not oblige Israel to respond with a peaceful gesture. Egypt also is on record as saying it would bar Israeli ships and cargo from the canal on grounds the two states technically are still at war.

Sadat was particularly animated as he and Ford posed for photos at the start of the Salzburg meeting. Ford seemed more serious, smiling faintly from time to time while Sadat grinned broadly.

'Great Debate' On Foreign Policy Slated In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is returning from a 10-day Memorial Day recess with an agenda that includes foreign policy, voting rights, a deadlocked appropriation bill and two presidential vetoes.

Liberals and conservatives were prepared to do battle in the Senate later today in what was billed as a "great debate" on foreign policy and defense posture in the post-Vietnam era.

The vehicle for this debate is a $30.3 billion authorization bill for military weapons procurement and research. The amount recommended by the Senate Armed Services Committee for the 15-months beginning July 1 is $5.4 billion less than Pentagon budget requests and $2.3 billion under the bill passed by the House on May 20.

Final Senate action is scheduled for Friday after votes beginning Wednesday on amendments to impose additional overall cuts and to reduce or eliminate specific weapons programs.

The debate was arranged primarily by Sens. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., with the cooperation of Sens. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Harry F. Byrd, Ind.-Va.

In a prelude May 22, in which all senators were invited to express their views, Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee warned: "Let America beware of a military letdown immediately after all that has happened in South Vietnam."

On the liberal side, Cranston said Americans are "calling for new priorities."

"The United States should be a peaceful world neighbor instead of a militant world meddler," he said. "We need a foreign and defense policy based on international partnerships for peace and freedom."

The House takes up a bill to extend the voting rights act until August 1985, making permanent the ban on literacy tests as a condition for voting and extending coverage to foreign-language-speaking minorities.

The deadlocked $15-billion appropriation bill is delaying payment of GI education benefits to some 300,000 veterans. The measure was on the brink of enactment right before the recess but was snarled by Senate insistence on a $700-million item to repair railroad tracks.

One veto, involving a $5.3-billion appropriation bill that its sponsors say would create 900,000 jobs, was signed last week by President Ford who said its impact would come after the economy was on the road to recovery and would aggravate inflation.

The House will vote this week, probably Wednesday, on whether to override the veto. The measure, which would provide funds for public works projects, won overwhelming House approval last month.

The second veto involved the bill to protect the environment against strip mining.

An override vote on Ford's veto of the bill was postponed before the Memorial Day recess when sponsors of the measure could not muster the needed two-thirds vote in the House. The override vote is tentatively set for June 10.

Stubblefield Named To MSU Board of Regents

Former First District Congressman Frank Albert Stubblefield has been appointed to the Murray State University Board of Regents according to notification received by MSU President Dr. Constantine Curris.

Stubblefield replaces Skip Neale, whose term had expired, for a four-year stint on the university governing body.

Congressman Stubblefield served 16 years in the U. S. House of Representatives, from the 86th Congress in 1958 through the 93rd Congress in 1974. A native of Murray, he is a graduate of Murray High School and has previously served on the Murray City Council.

Earlier this spring, Stubblefield donated his collection of congressional papers and memorabilia to the MSU library. The university conferred an honorary Doctor of Laws degree on the congressman during commencement exercises in the spring of 1973.

While in Washington, Stubblefield's office served as a headquarters for efforts to obtain federal financial aid for Murray State for campus projects.

Upon receiving notification of Stubblefield's appointment to the board, Dr. Curris said, "We are pleased that Congressman Stubblefield has been appointed to the Board of Regents. He has been of great assistance to Murray State University during his years in Congress and it is appropriate that he now has the opportunity to continue that service."

The Board of Regents next meeting date has not been scheduled at this time, however, it will be sometime during the summer.

Study Reveals College Tuition Here Lower Than Nearby States

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — It doesn't cost as much to attend college in Kentucky as in some neighboring states, according to statistics compiled by the state Council on Public Higher Education.

The survey shows that students attending state universities in Kentucky last year paid from $81 to $450 less in tuition than students attending similar schools in West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

The region's median undergraduate tuition for state residents is Missouri's $580 for schools such as the University of Kentucky, and North Carolina's $501 for regional schools.

Median tuition is the figure that half the states were above and the other half below.

The University of Kentucky's $480 undergraduate tuition is $100 below the median for similar schools, and the $420 tuition at Kentucky's six regional schools is $81 less than the median for other regional schools, according to the report.

For schools such as the University of Kentucky, tuition ranged from $310 in West Virginia to $780 in Ohio.

For out-of-state students, Kentucky's tuition charges — $1,210 at UK and $950 at regional universities — are the second lowest of the regional states. Out-of-state tuition in North Carolina was $2,015, in West Virginia $1,140 and in Missouri, $1,660.

Out-of-state fees at the regional schools ranged from $813 in Missouri to $2,057 in North Carolina.

The University of Kentucky's tuition for graduate school last year was $50 below the $580 median charged by Missouri.

Registration For Summer Reading Program At Library Now Underway

Registration for the Summer Reading Club at the Calloway County Public Library started today, Monday, June 2, and continue through June 7.

Each summer a Reading Club is sponsored by the Library in the hope of encouraging children to read for fun and enjoyment as well as for information purposes. This summer's program will be for an eight-week period, beginning June 9, and ending July 31.

Children who have just finished the first grade, and children who have just finished the 6th grade will be eligible to join. The only requirement is that the participants must read books on their grade or reading level. Students will register the grade they have just completed. Hopefully, each week the contestants will turn in a list of the books read during that week so that a record can be kept during the entire contest. The reading lists should be signed by the child's parents. Only books checked out from the public library will be counted. At the end of the eight week period, a count of the "most books read" will reveal the winners. They will be chosen from three categories: 1st and 2nd grades; 3rd and 4th grades; and 5th and 6th grades. All children who read five or more books will receive a Reading Certificate.

Especially designed registration cards and bookmarks will be given to each child when registering. This year's slogan is "Gone Readin'" and a large bulletin board in the library will record the names of the participants and the weekly count of the number of books read.

There will be special programs offered such as famous children's authors present, musicals and film presentations during the eight-week period.

"We hope to include many children in this Summer Reading Club of 1975 as plans are being made to make it the most fun time ever," said Mrs. Margaret Trevathan, Librarian.

Loving And Respectful Words Describe Wife Of Bishop Finger

What is the wife of a Bishop of the United Methodist Church like?

People attending the eighth session of the Memphis Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church this week on the campus of Murray State University in Murray will describe Mrs. Mamie Lee Finger in loving and respectful words. "She has a deep and personal interest in every Methodist parsonage in the conference," one minister's wife said.

Just two years ago in 1972-73, Mrs. H. Ellis Finger served as president of all wives of the Council of Bishops of the entire United Methodist Church worldwide. During this year nineteen new Bishop's wives were oriented and blended with the remaining group.

Mrs. Finger also initiated the Ministers' Wives Retreat which is held each fall at Lakeshore. This is a time of personal growth and the development of a self image for ministers' wives. "It has been a wonderful program and has surpassed my dreams for it," she said.

Mrs. Mamie Lee Finger

A native of Clarksdale, Mississippi, she met the Bishop while she was attending Agnes Scott College and he was a theological student at Emory University, both in Atlanta. She went to work for Shell Oil Company in New York and then returned to Mississippi to become a minister's wife.

Her three children kept her busy along with the various pastorates her husband filled. H. E. Finger III now teaches German at Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania; Bill Finger is on the editorial staff of the Southern Exposure in the Institute of Southern Studies in Chapel Hill, North Carolina; and Betsy is completing her U. S. H. Missionary Commitment at the Greenville, South Carolina, Urban Ministry and will soon begin work as Co-Director of the Urban Ministry in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Think "cheese" when making menu plans, UK Extension dairy specialists suggest. Cheese can be used as the main protein source for a meal or as an appetizer or supplement to main courses. And, with today's packaging methods, there's no waste with cheese — it's 100% edible. It can be stored in the refrigerator several months before the package is opened and will usually keep at least two weeks after opening. And it can be left at room temperatures for several hours without spoiling. "Cheese has many advantages" is the specialists' reminder.

Dad and Sons Should Go Stag Fishing

DEAR ABBY: Each year my husband and our teenage sons spend a week up north fishing. They love it, I hate it. I wish my husband and the boys would go without me, but when I mention it, my husband says, "No, we'll just skip it this year because Mom doesn't want to go." The boys are disappointed and Mom is the heavy.

Abby, before we had children, I went fishing with my husband so he would have companionship, and I plan to do it again when the children are gone. When the boys were small I went without complaint because I felt I was needed; small boys could at times be more problems than pleasure for a man on a week's fishing trip.

But the boys are not children now, and they couldn't care less whether I went along or not. The fishing week is the high spot of their year. And it's my absolute lowest.

Am I wrong to want to stay home? It would be a great vacation for me not having to cook, wash or iron. Help me, Abby. They believe in you.

ALL FISHED OUT

DEAR FISHED: IMPORE Dad to let you off the hook this time. You've earned your stay-at-home vacation. (P.S. To the men in your house: "DON'T NAG—GO STAG!")

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column from a woman who couldn't bring herself to spend the inheritance money her mother had left her. The reason: When she (the daughter) was struggling with a young family to make ends meet, her mother (who could have well afforded it) gave her no help at all.

Years later, when the daughter no longer needed anything, her mother died and left her a small fortune.

Her letter prompts mine: My late husband used to say, "It is better to give with warm hands." (Meaning: "while one is alive.") He practiced that philosophy all his life and loved to give.

Now that he is gone, I am giving to my children and grandchildren "with warm hands," which gives them much pleasure. But to be perfectly honest, I am selfish, because when I give to them, my pleasure is far greater than theirs.

SELFISH GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: What this world needs is more of your brand of "selfishness." (P.S. Besides, it might be one way to reduce the inheritance tax.)

DEAR ABBY: I noticed a letter in your column from a minister who complained because after he had officiated at burial services for people who didn't even belong to his church, their families failed to pay him for his services.

I don't know how other folks handle it, but here in Tacoma, Wash., the funeral director just adds $25 to the cost of the funeral, and he pays the minister without bothering the family.

Not long ago, I received a letter from an elderly couple who was making funeral arrangements in advance. Enclosed was a check for $25 with the following note: "We want to be buried together. This should cover it."

Rising Health care costs...

are caused by many factors with inflation being only one. Just as important is the increased use of hospital facilities.

The year 1974, for example, saw a rise in both hospital admissions and in the number of hospital days used by Blue Cross and Blue Shield members.

This high use trend is continuing into 1975. As a result, the cost of your Blue Cross and Blue Shield plan will be directly affected.

We know you're concerned about higher health care costs. So are we. That's why Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky continually work with doctors and hospitals in an effort to help control the factors that affect these costs.

We have a responsibility — to help you get quality health care as economically as possible. You, as a member, also have a responsibility. Make sure, when you use your benefits, that the care is really needed.

If you would like information about Blue Cross and Blue Shield health care plans, we invite you to get in touch with us.

Give Dad A Denim For his Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Father's Day is coming and... Have you noticed how Dad looks at you in your indigos? How he pulls on a battered pair of jeans when he is about to fix something mechanical or have a relaxing weekend? How he bowls and sails in his blue jeans?

Now that the new washed denim look is around for all ages, you may want to surprise your Dad with a new pair with cigarette slim or flare legs in the faded blue look.

Or, you could invest in a watch band and watch whose face is blue denim, or lightweight denim luggage or a blue denim backgammon set in mini or major size or a barbecue apron that comes in a variety of styles.

If you're gifted, you may want to make something special out of an old pair of your blue jeans. It is a way to show you care enough to spend time on Dad when you recycle your denims into a pillow, a book cover, a wall hanging or a soft sculpture for him.

"Grabbers" are often losers in the shopping game, so don't rush through your grocery shopping. Give yourself time to think over the best buys and find real bargains. Just a little more time spent in the supermarket can help you locate winners in price and quality. This suggestion comes from Extension consumer economics specialists at the University of Kentucky.

Down the Garden Path

By MRS. W. P. WILLIAMS

With the arrival of warm weather, all sorts of insects, bugs and pests have begun to show themselves. There are the sort that chew up leaves, the kind that suck the sap from plants and the vicious little fellows that cut off plants at ground level.

One little boy said he believed the potato bugs were sitting on the ground waiting for the potatoes to come up, and it does look that way. But it all adds up to the fact that we have to get out the spray gun and dust the plants. There is an all-purpose spray (liquid or dust) that will take care of most of the bothersome insects in one dusting.

Most of them have Malathion or similar ingredients, and it takes continual work to keep ahead of the pests. After a rain is the best time to spray with dust. If another rain comes immediately, then it must be done over again.

Some insects have to be "hand-picked," such as the huge, beautiful worm that assails my parsley each year. They are big and fat and striped vividly in green and black, but a search of plants every two or three days will get rid of them.

One of the loveliest shrubs is the old-fashioned Mock Orange. It is really a Philadelphus and some of the newer hybrids are really elegant. I have one of these called Enchantment in my yard and it fills the air with a subtle fragrance. There is also the Belle Etolide, the large single one with the same aroma. There are others all pure white and delightful, well worth a spot in the yard.

Speaking of parsley, if you need a pretty edging plant around one of your flower beds, try it this year. It is such a bright green, crinkled so effectively and stays pretty all summer. It will stand the heat of all-day sun and how convenient, just to step out to the flower bed for a bunch of parsley to put in soups, salads, or use as a garnish.

Late azaleas are still blooming. I have a new white one Helen Curtis, that I did not think would bloom this spring, but it is lovely. There is a companion azalea in blue that I hope to put next to it next fall.

I wonder why some plants do so well and another of the same sort planted close by just manages to stay alive. I planted a clematis on each side of my kitchen door. One is growing luxuriously and the other is at a standstill. The soil is the same, they get the same amount of sun and water. They say you must talk to your plants, so I think I had better tell the slow vine that if it doesn't perk up I will have to use strong measures, like pulling it up and throwing it away.

Maybe I have been bragging on the other one too much and this one is sulking. Seriously it is odd how this can happen, when two plants are treated the same and one responds and the other doesn't. Perhaps the vine, or bush, or shrub was not in as good condition to start with.

But this sort of thing can happen. It is part of the risk of gardening.

PROFITS: And How They Effect Your Job

The work force of this country is probably its most important asset.

The working American is the backbone of our economic system, the one who produces the goods and services, pays the taxes, and, indirectly, creates business growth.

The way to create more and better jobs for Americans comes through business profits and the expectation of profits which are essential for companies to expand.

In recent months, the term "profit," unfortunately, has been given a negative, exploitive connotation in some segments of our society. As a matter of fact, a group of business leaders were told by President Gerald Ford recently that they have not succeeded in their efforts to educate the American public about the importance of profits.

Increasing numbers of young people enter our job market each year and in order for them to find employment, additional positions must be created. Without steady growth, the economy of our country stagnates.

Under our system of free enterprise, high profits in a particular area attract competitors who, in turn, will provide more jobs and seek to produce better products at lower prices. It is a never-ending circle which, if broken at any point, will have disastrous consequences for those at all other points along the circumference.

If a business or industry realizes no profits it is prevented from putting capital back into that business and there can be no modernization, no replacement of old, worn and perhaps dangerous machinery, no expansion and no growth.

Pay checks are not automatic. They do not come out of thin air and neither do they come from "pie in the sky" as some radicals in the higher echelons of the labor world and the socialist-leaning liberal politicians would have us believe.

A prosperous, profit-making business or industry is the only kind of business or industry that can and will provide job security. If a business venture does not prosper, and if its profits never appear or disappear, jobs and paychecks are in jeopardy.

Employers and employees (management and labor) are directly dependent upon each other. Neither can survive and most certainly neither will prosper, without the other.

Our standard of living, the highest ever achieved in all the world, was not provided by a bureaucratic government monstrosity, which, as some try to convince us, can provide the people of our country with anything they desire.

Our government can only provide what the citizens of our country are willing to pay for through taxation. And when business profits are cut, the government's share also drops.

Labor will prosper when business prospers and they both can prosper if they work together under the historic American system of representative, constitutional government; private enterprise; individual freedom; and most of all, a willingness to work for a reasonable day's pay for a reasonable day's productivity.

Gable Loses No Time In Campaign

By S. C. Van Curon

FRANKFORT — Republican gubernatorial nominee Robert E. Gable lost no time in beginning his campaign against Democrat nominee Julian Carroll.

He was at a factory entrance in Frankfort at 7:30 a. m. Wednesday following Tuesday's voting and had two-color ads in some state newspapers Wednesday morning with the bold headline saying "Get to know Gable."

While Gable ran a low-key primary campaign without much opposition, he is gearing up apparently to wage a strong campaign against the Democrats this fall.

Outregistered two to one by the Democrats, the Frankfort resident with extensive coal and timber holdings in McCreary County is planning a hard campaign in which he expects to bring pertinent issues to the people.

He gave a signal of some of the issues he will discuss following early returns Tuesday night when he was the apparent victor. Gable says financing education, financial responsibility, and services to the people will be big issues in the campaign.

There are plenty of issues to be discussed, including the growth in the number on the state payroll and surplus funds. Gable also will discuss the distribution of surplus severance tax to the coal-producing counties.

Carroll has pledged more money to education, but he will try to dodge being responsible for actions of former governor Wendell Ford who went to the U. S. Senate in December and left Carroll to take over as governor.

The Ford administration certainly wasn't the brightest in Kentucky history since it was marred by scandals and loaded with favoritism for political cronies.

The news media reported all of the shenanigans, but the people of Kentucky merely shrugged their shoulders as if to say, "It's just politics."

The scandal of moving state government offices, in which about $400,000 was involved with a moving company, got well aired, but Ford's name was left out and employees in the Finance Department became scapegoats and were fired.

The state lost its criminal case against the moving company but won a civil suit asking return of part of the money already paid. The moving company turned up broke, but no one has ever understood what happened to all of the money paid out on padded worksheets.

Ford let building contracts without bids, using the emergency dodge as an excuse, and spent thousands of dollars buying land for a gun club in his native Davies County, but then turned around and leased the ground to the club for one dollar a year.

These may be some of the samples that Gable may try against the Carroll administration, but Carroll has the defense that he and Ford tolerated one another with Ford as governor and Carroll as lieutenant governor. There never was any warm relations between the two while Ford was governor since Carroll ran on a ticket with former Governor Bert T. Combs against Ford in the Democrat primary four years ago.

Parks Commissioner Ewart Johnson took the blame for the aborted chair lift at Cumberland Falls State Park, but in all of my experience around state government I have never seen a deal of this magnitude made without consent or orders from the governor. Ford professed no knowledge of it.

Edward Music of Prestonsburg had a contract signed by former Finance Commissioner Charles Pryor and filed suit in Franklin Circuit Court to collect his losses after he had the equipment on the ground and had started construction when Ford stopped it as a violation of the Wild Rivers Act.

The case is now pending before the Court of Appeals.

The November campaign should develop some issues although none seemed to be developed during the primary.

TODAY'S TOPIC: If Ye Break Faith

It is a privilege to turn over this space today to a friend and colleague, Egon Tausch, who served with distinction as a captain in the U. S. Army. Mr. Tausch's comments follow:

"Vietnam and Cambodia have fallen, and the Communist Empire has been expanded by that much territory.

"What does it mean for the inhabitants of those countries? The Vietnamese apparently think it means a lot. Hundreds of thousands of them left their homes and belongings to flee North Vietnam when the Communists took over there. Countless numbers were executed before they could 'vote with their feet.' Then the Communists invaded the South, and hundreds of thousands more were killed resisting them over twenty years of war. As the provinces fell to Northern tanks, the mass exodus of refugees began again. Many died on the way. When the last boats, planes, and helicopters left Vietnam, refugees tried to claw their way on board, often under enemy fire.

"What is left for those who survived the migrations and the war only to be left under Communist rule after all? The new regime says there will be no bloodbath, and certainly the rulers wish to appear benevolent for the time being. But then, they said the same things in the North twenty years ago. And, of course, the regime is committed to the elimination of any remaining 'enemies of the People', 'collaborators' and 'reactionaries', and to the confiscation of property. Those who have done nothing to offend the Communists, who accept re-education and are sufficiently obedient will doubtless remain alive—someone has to work in the rice paddies for the state.

"Some of us who fought in Vietnam had friends among the natives' friends who were killed in battle, or whose families were executed by the VC for 'political' reasons, or who just never made it to safety. Their countrymen are already being taught to revile their memory.

"But mostly there is silence in Vietnam; though some of us can still hear the voices of the dead.

"In the safety of Washington and New York, one reads that many Vietnamese supported the Communist takeover—but men who were there know that the Southern Viet Cong were moribund after 1968; the enemy consisted of North Vietnamese Regulars, supported by China and the Soviet Union. One reads that the anti-Communists lacked 'the will to resist'—yet they fought for twenty years and lost a generation of their best men; a comparison with the French resistance to the Nazis would not be flattering to our European ally. One reads that the South Vietnamese Government was corrupt—a word that is used nowadays to describe any government which stands in the way of Communist expansion. One reads that Oriental peasants are apathetic and don't care how or by whom they are ruled—a particularly vile form of racist reasoning. One reads that the pitifully few refugees who made it to our shores are a burden on the economy (if not on our consciences). All of this is said in America; in Vietnam there is mostly silence.

"Lately one reads that there must be no recriminations here; that we Americans should be silent, too. After all, we should never have offered to help South Vietnam; the terrain wasn't advantageous; we were prudent to fight only a limited, farce of a war; bombing Hanoi was unthinkable—better to spread out the casualties among ourselves and our allies over ten years of war; then, we were justified in pulling out and placing our faith in the great Paris peace accords; and when that sham was exploded by the Communists, Congress was right to cut off aid to the South in order to 'end the agony of war' and bestow on other people the agony of a Communist peace. And, anyway, tomorrow would be a better day for fighting. There are always good reasons for weakness.

"Many Americans did have the will to fight, and thousands died. It may be doubted whether all those killed understood the complicated issues involved; their buddies will vouch for the fact that they fought for their country. Doing so, they hindered Communist expansion for ten years, and under the existing political limitations, that was a heroic feat. We are asked to be silent about their sacrifices, lest we embarrass some of the politicians and journalists who helped engineer our eventual failure. But a poem about another foreign war still haunts us: 'If ye break faith with us who die, we shall not sleep, though poppies grow in Flanders fields.'

"In terms of our own security, there is little satisfaction in the proof that the 'domino theory' did work all over Southeast Asia. Meanwhile, millions of people around the world, whose help we will ultimately need for our security, are watching and learning about the American government's 'will to resist'—

'By all ye cry or whisper, By all ye leave or do, The silent, sullen peoples Shall weigh your Gods and you.'

"Let us pray that the American people still love freedom and will protect it in the future, whatever the errors of our current breed of politicians who seem to have more antipathy toward the American taxpayer, businessman, and individual than toward an armed foreign enemy."

HEARTLINE

HEARTLINE

HEARTLINE is a service for Senior Citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions—fast. Write HEARTLINE, 8514 North Main St., Dayton, Ohio, 45415.

Heartline: Will CHAMPVA pay for insulin? R. O.

Answer: Yes.

Heartline: What is the maximum pension possible under Civil Service? R. T.

Answer: Normally, the maximum annuity payable to an annuitant is 80 per cent of his average salary as computed under the retirement law, plus whatever additional percentage is appropriate for the unused sick leave to his credit, if retired after October 20, 1969. Annuity in excess of the 80 per cent limitation may also be achieved by making voluntary contributions.

Heartline: If I move to another state, will the amount of my SSI (Supplemental Security Income) check change? W. T.

Answer: Very possibly. Different states supplement different amounts, therefore, your SSI could be higher or lower in amount, depending upon which state you move to.

Heartline: Does vacation pay that I earned in 1974 count against my allowable earned income in 1975? E. Z.

Answer: No. The test is when the income was earned, not paid.

Heartline: My daughter was receiving child's benefits, but her benefits were stopped when she married. She has since been divorced and is still under age 18. Can she receive child's benefits again? T. J.

Answer: No. One of the eligibility requirements for a child's benefit is that the child be unmarried. However, a child cannot be considered unmarried if his or her benefits were stopped because she married and then later was divorced. Consequently, your daughter cannot qualify for child's benefits even though she is under age 18.

Let's Stay Well

Scans To Detect Early Disease

By F. J. L. Blassingame, M.D.

BLASSINGAME

Scans may become a routine part of annual physical examinations.

Such scanning is accomplished by injecting into the body a small, safe dose of radioactive material. As it circulates through the various organs, a series of scintiphotos record the distribution of the blood vessels through which the radioactive material is passing. Disturbances of the patterns of blood flow serve as signals of local disease. The abnormal findings are then checked by additional methods of testing.

Certain areas — the heart and lungs, neck vessels, brain and kidneys — are routinely surveyed. Later, as the material is being excreted through the urinary tract, much of it can be outlined and the excretion of urine evaluated.

This use of scanning is called a Major Organ Profile (MOP). It lessens the radiation dose as compared to that of a complete X-ray survey — all with a single injection. And the cost to the patient is less.

The necessary equipment is not in use for general surveying at this time as a routine procedure but has been undergoing feasibility studies.

The scanning is judged to be safe and effective, and the results are encouraging. In a private laboratory in Bradenton, Fla., this screening method picked up preliminary evidence of abnormalities in 47 per cent of 300 persons studied since January 1974. According to a recent report in Medical World News on the research of William Maxfield, M.D., radiotherapist, the routine addition of nuclear medicine to medical examinations should speed up the detection of early disease, even in many persons who have not yet developed any symptoms.

Q Mrs. U.E. asks whether fat children usually become fat adults.

A: Fat children usually become fat adults, but not always. Fatness in a child may be a complicated problem and be related to any number of things, such as too much food, lack of exercise, a glandular disorder or an emotional conflict. Hereditary characteristics may be related. If you have a child with an overweight problem, don't take it lightly. I suggest that you have him see a physician.

Q Mrs. E.A. is concerned because she has been told that she has a lung lesion that has turned to a stone, and she wonders if any treatment is needed.

A: You have had an inflamed area, and it has sealed by scar tissue that has become calcified. Such a report means that you had adequate body resistance to overcome the infection and heal. The calcified area produces no symptoms and requires no treatment.

1920 Class At Murray High School Holds Reunion

By Lochie Broach Hart
"We'll find a way or make one," is the motto the freshmen of Murray High School selected in 1916. After the 1920 class reunion Saturday night, I'm convinced the thread of that motto is woven into the designs of our lives and keeps us active and has been a part of our overcoming obstacles, even making polished gems of us. Plans for the 56th reunion were made for May 17, 1976.

From dinner chatter in the Holiday Red Room Saturday night, May 17, we found that from the class of '20, there were 24 living and most of them in good health, enjoying retirement and continuing active in their community, paid or unpaid. I saw no wheel chairs, or crutches, but two admitted wearing hearing aids. From these statistics and observation, you could presume that fifty five years of good health and living defies our modern standards of public health exactions.

Not What They Used To Be
In our school days, there were eighteen of us who came from the county. There were few gravel roads—just dusty country lanes, and when they froze and thawed, the mud made it impossible to get to school in a buggy, a T model Ford, or on bicycle. Those who rode horseback, made slow time in ankle-deep mud.

Those who "made a way" to overcome the transportation hardships and living in the west side of the county, were Vera Marine, Lottie Tucker, Loyd Spann, Euva Waldrop, Lochie Broach, Roxie Sparkman, Ruth Worley, Harry Dulaney, Justus Ellis.

Murray Divides County
Even though there is no distinction between sides of the county now, in the twenties and before, the part east of the railroad was referred to as the east side. Coming from the east side then were Bryan Raines, a retired Methodist minister, who instigated this 55th reunion. Ina Madden lived near Tobacco and could ride the train to town each day, arriving at 7:30 a. m. She walked to the building, at the location of the present Middle School, returned to the depot and rode the 3:30 home in the afternoon.

Other members of the class lived in or near town and did not share our country troubles. We had no lunch room. During the noon hour break the city kids went home, but the others ate in the study hall. Our food usually consisted of sausage and biscuit sandwiches, peanut butter, sometimes fried chicken and a deviled egg, wrapped in a newspaper and stored in our desks. There were no lockers.

The folks in town had iceboxes to store the daily delivered ice. But in the county, we "refrigerated" our milk and butter by hanging them in pails in the cistern or well.

Made Our Entertainment
Our entertainment was limited to what was available—like picnics on Clarks River, walking the railroad, running away from school on April 1, giving the teachers a rest; having home parties where played games, made candy and popped corn; and usually Mary Waters (Mrs. Roy Farmer) or Bisco Robertson, not in our class but good pianists who made some spending money by playing for the silent movies in the Woodruff Theater were with us to aid in our singing. Recently this building just south of the Christian Church was demolished for progress at the Peoples Bank. Victrolas and radios were being introduced then and just a few existed here. The "Charleston" was the "in" dance.

Progress Follows Tragedy
Christmas week of 1919 brought tragedy to the whole school. Until then the two-story brick housed all twelve grades. The first eight were on the first floor and the high school occupied the second. A large study hall centered the higher grades and four class rooms accommodated the recitations. Toilets were outdoors as was the basketball court. Football games were played on the present "Ty Holland" grid. But these accommodations ended when the school building burned during Christmas holidays, 1919.

But Supt. Jimmy Jones and the Board of Education "made a way." Barn-type structures were built on the school ground for all but the seniors. We were housed in the court house and the basement of the Methodist church. In a short time a new and modern building replaced the old one and brought progress to the system out of the Christmas calamity.

Almost On Our Own
The courthouse was practically new and the third floor unused. The courtroom was our study hall and most of the classes held on the third floor. A vacant room almost brought another tragedy, according to Justus Ellis's review Saturday evening. He related how he and Percy Glasgow threw a chair from the third floor window. It crashed over the head of a pedestrian on the walk below. Prof. J. G. Glasgow, math teacher, disciplined his son and Justus who didn't describe the results in full. We were left pretty much on our honor that semester. When not in classes we were apt to be found in Dale & Stubblefields, Wears or Holland & Harts drug stores. Hazel Miller Keys showed pictures of her grand children—as did others.

Today 75 per cent are living and with their children are contributing to their communities and doing well financially. Two became ministers—Wayne Drash and Bryan Raines. Twelve were teachers, seven were in business, and several combined homemaking with businesses. Liza Spann, valedictorian, is the only PHD in the class. She recently retired from the science department at Murray State University. The physicians who had studied premed here with her, established a Dr. Liza Spann Foundation. Several in the reunion told Liza that had it not been for her help, they would have never made it through school.

Most Recognized
Oddly enough, most of the class recognized each other. Some we had not seen since graduation night in the First Christian Church. The girls wore ruffled long organdy dresses. Some wore blue and others pink. Wide-brimmed ruffled hats were worn, too. That was long before caps and gowns.

Ruby Swann and I did not know each other. Her red hair and my brown had changed to white and salt and pepper. I didn't recognize Justus Ellis, but he knew me.

Teachers Remembered
Our teachers, all deceased, were remembered by incidents and with fondness. Superintendent Jones was credited with sparking us with ambition. Others included were Miss Ruby Wear, Carlisle Cutchin, Miss Cappie Beale, Miss Lula Holland, Mrs. H. P. Wear and Mr. Glasgow.

Bryan Raines presided at the dinner and in opening offered a prayer of thanks. He then had a comment from his store of memories, to make about each alumnus there. The class president, H. B. Scott, expressed his appreciation for the occasion. The group voted to follow his suggestion of making May 17 an annual get-together.

Those present were graduates—Lochie Broach (Mrs. George Hart), Emma Hicks and husband, Solon Darnell; Sadie Nell Hood (Mrs. Garnett Jones) and her guest, Clara Louise Wall (Mrs. Robert Jones); Vera Marine (Mrs. Fred Stone); Liza Spann and her sister, Martha, who decorated the dining table with flowers from their garden; Euva Waldrop (Mrs. A. Mount Vernon

(George Washington's Home)

Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, America's first President, is another in the growing list of ink drawings by a young man who is rapidly gaining a widespread reputation as one of the nations most prominent artists of structures. James Wayne Harris of Murray, Kentucky, Mr. Harris' work depicts the stately mansion as it appears today and as it was planned by the first President before he left to lead the Continental Armies to victory over the British in the Revolutionary War, or the War of Independence. Originally owned by Washington's great-grandfather, John Washington, Mount Vernon, as we know it today was at one time one of five farms owned by the first President and totalling more than 8,000 acres.

The first president is buried in a family burial vault, built in 1831 in accordance with the instructions included in his will. His wife, Martha, is buried at his side. More than a million visitors stroll through its historic halls and peer into its beautifully-furnished rooms each year coming from all over the world as well as the United States.

J. W. Harris is presently working on a full-color painting of the famous old Irvin Cobb Hotel in Paducah, Kentucky, home of the late humorist. A limited edition release of this landmark building will be available later this summer. A native of Chicago, Harris was graduated from the Lemont Township High School, is the son of a former major league pitcher with the Chicago Cubs. Harris received his undergraduate degree in art and industrial art from Murray State University in 1969.

Redman Edges Andretti In Formula 5000 Race

LONG POND, Pa. (AP) — "It was the right decision," said Brian Redman. And who could argue with the man who edged out Mario Andretti to win the 98-mile main event in Sunday's Formula 5000 race at Pocono International Raceway?

Redman was talking about his decision to scratch his new Chevrolet powered Lola T-400 for a similar T-322 that he used to win the championship last year.

"You hate to give away an up-front starting position but it was obvious that the new car was not competitive," said Redman, who came from last place to win the qualifying heat and then overtook Andretti to finish almost a mile ahead.

In the time trials before the May 4 rainout of Sunday's season opener, Redman had been clocked as the fourth-fastest qualifier.

"The officials said we were fourth fastest, but according to our watches, we were sixth," Redman said. "There was no way we would be able to keep up with Andretti with the new car."

Redman, a 38-year-old Britisher who narrowly defeated Andretti for the championship of the Sports Club of America U.S. Auto Club series last year, averaged 116.889 miles an hour in Sunday's race.

He finished 23 seconds ahead of Andretti's teammate, Al Unser, who also drove a Lola-Chevrolet.

Jackie Oliver, another Englishman, was third in a Shadow. Fourth place Eppie Wietzes, in a Lola-Chevrolet, was the only other driver to complete 35 laps on the twisting 2.8-mile road course.

Andretti, the 1969 Indy 500 winner who lives in Nazareth, Pa., led the first 19 laps. In the 20th, smoke began pouring from the back of his white and red car. He slowed considerably and dropped out on the 25th lap.

"I can't cry too much 'cause I won an awful lot of races with good luck," Andretti said. "You know, I had five years when everything broke right."

"But the last five years have sure as hell balanced it off. I don't like to complain ... but I've seen enough smoke to last me a lifetime."

Nolan Ryan Ties Mark, Gets Fourth No-Hitter

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The crowd of 18,492 was screaming with every pitch Nolan Ryan threw. Ruth Ryan watched her husband from the stands, tensing with each delivery. Even his California Angels teammates felt the pressure.

But not Ryan. While everyone around him was swept up in the excitement, the flamethrowing right-hander was cool as ice as he etched his niche in baseball's record books with the fourth no-hitter of his career.

"It's just something that happens," said Ryan, whose 1-0 masterpiece against the Baltimore Orioles Sunday put him alongside Sandy Koufax as the only pitchers in major league history with four no-hitters. "I never give it a lot of thought — really I don't."

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit split with Chicago, winning 5-1 and losing 3-2; Kansas City swept Milwaukee 13-6 and 11-5; Boston outscored Minnesota 11-9; Oakland beat Cleveland 6-3, and New York defeated Texas, 8-4.

Maybe Ryan wasn't thinking no-hitter, but everyone around him was. The fans at Anaheim Stadium, who began buzzing in the middle innings, started to roar in the eighth. Ryan's teammates on the youthful Angels felt the excitement.

The 28-year-old Ryan, whose no-hitter was the first of the 1975 season, pitched the major leagues' last no-hitter as well, stopping Minnesota 4-0 last Sept. 28. His others were in 1973, a 3-0 victory over Kansas City May 15 and a 6-0 triumph over Detroit July 15, 1973.

The Angels got Ryan the only run he needed in the third inning on two-out singles by Mickey Rivers, Tommy Harper and Dave Chalk.

Royals 13-11, Brewers 6-5

John Mayberry homered, drove in six runs and scored five as the Royals punted Milwaukee hurlers for 24 runs in the doubleheader.

The Brewers' Hank Aaron, the home run king, rapped four singles in the twinning to tie Stan Musial for second place on

White Sox 1-3, Tigers 5-2

Mickey Lolich scattered seven hits in the opener for the 201st victory of his career, making the 13-year veteran the winningest Detroit left-hander ever. Also, Lolich's three strikeouts put him one ahead of Bob Feller for sixth place on the all-time list with 2,582 and left him just one behind Warren Spahn among all left-handers.

Chicago pulled out the second game when Deron Johnson walked with the bases loaded in the fifth inning, forcing home the winning run.

night of the season.

Angels' Manager Dick Williams has said he looks for a no-hitter every time Ryan takes the mound.

Ryan doesn't.

"A no-hitter isn't on my mind as it is with some of the fellows on this club," Ryan said after popping a bubble blown with the wad of gum he was chewing.

"Really, I don't think about it. You do that and you're only thinking about yourself. I think I can win enough games without throwing no-hitters all the time."

Sunday he struck out nine and walked four to move his major league won-lost record to 100-85.

He ended the game in classic

Koufax, who retired in 1966 when Ryan was a 19-year-old with Greenville in the Western Carolina League, said from his retreat near Paso Robles, Calif., that he had no sadness about Ryan matching his four no-hitters.

"There was no doubt he was going to do it. The only question is how many more he's going to pitch," Koufax said. He said the number might reach 10 or 12 "with the kind of fastball he has."

The National League's New York Mets traded Ryan and three others to the Angels in 1971 for third baseman Jim Fregosi. And Ryan blossomed in 1972, posting a 19-16 record with 329 strikeouts in his first American League season.

The following year Ryan set an all-time single season major league strikeout mark of 383, bettering by one Koufax' 1965 record.

Ryan had a 21-16 record in 1973 and pitched two no-hitters — against Kansas City and Detroit, both on the road.

Last year he was 22-16 with 367 strikeouts and pitched one more no-hitter, Sept. 28 here against Minnesota on the final

Irwin Smokes Field In Atlanta Golf Open, Tom Watson Second

By ED SHERER
AP Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — "All he had to do was coast around," said Charles Coody. "Nobody took a run at him."

Hale Irwin, the 1974 U.S. Open champion, accomplished his goal Sunday and coasted to an easy four-shot victory in the $225,000 Atlanta Golf Classic.

"I went out with the distinct impression I had to shoot a 69 today," said Irwin. "That would make someone have to shoot a 65 to beat me."

The former University of Colorado golfer and football star did even better — a four-under-par 68 — and no one even approached a 65.

Asked why no one made a run at him, Irwin, who will be 30 Tuesday, replied, "It's Sunday. It's choking day."

Coody, witness since capturing the Masters in 1961, was the only player to get within two shots of the lead. That came on the first hole, which he parred and Irwin bogeyed.

But Coody's hopes of a run faded when he missed short birdie putts on the seventh and eighth greens and then took a bogey on the ninth. He had to settle for third place money at 276 after a closing 70, while young Tom Watson finished second at 68-275.

Irwin's 17-under-par 271 over the hills-and-valleys of the 6,883-yard Atlanta County Club course was the lowest in nine tour events on this picturesque, piney layout, bettering by one shot the previous record set two years ago by Jack Nicklaus.

Irwin hit two of the 25,000 spectators during the round — a man with his tee shot on the third hole and a woman watching from the edge of the fairway on 11.

The victory, Irwin's fourth in an eight-year career but his first since last year's Open, was worth $45,000.

There was a three-way tie for fourth place between Nicklaus, who had won the two previous tour events here, Johnny Miller and Miller Barber. They stood at 277 as Nicklaus and Barber closed with 69s and Miller with a 70.

It was two shots further back to long-hitting Jim Dent, 72, and Jim Colbert, who had the lowest round of the day at 67, also matched by Jerry McGee and Great Britain's Peter Oosterhuis.

A Week To Remember For Golfer Kathy Whitworth

By GORDON BEARD
AP Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — It was a week to remember for Kathy Whitworth — or will be, when she finally has time to reflect and realizes what happened.

Six days after being inducted into the Ladies Professional Golfers Association Hall of Fame, the veteran campaigner came from behind to win her third prestigious LPGA Championship.

"It's hard to believe I'm in the Hall of Fame," Miss Whitworth said after a birdie putt on the 17th green gave her a one-stroke victory Sunday over Sandra Haynie in the 72-hole tournament.

"It really hasn't soaked in yet," she added. "It may be two or three weeks before it really comes to me. I'm still numb."

Understandably, Miss Whitworth's 73rd tournament title didn't shake her up quite as much.

"Life changes," she said. "This wasn't like my first win, or the second, or the third. Or, even like the first LPGA championship."

With a four-under-par 288 over the municipally-owned Pine Ridge course, the all-time LPGA money winner earned $8,000 and upped her career total to $554,781.

Miss Haynie, who also was seeking her third LPGA title, opened the final round in a tie with Miss Whitworth after making up four strokes on the 36-hole leader on Saturday. The $5,650 she got for finishing at 289 ran her career total to $415,193.

Young JoAnn Washam ran off four straight birdies through the 17th hole to finish third at 290 after shooting 71 on Sunday, followed by Donna Caponi Young at 291 and Carol Mann at 292.

Sandra Palmer, the leading money winner this year, ran her 1975 earnings to $47,582 after picking up $1,875 for a 293 that tied her with Sandra Spuzich and Jocelyn Bourassa.

Most players are returning team. The Robert Stout, Utley, Terry Scherer, Scott Smith, Randi Allbritton, Dennis West

Austin And Outland Win Title, Purcell To State Sixth Time

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Ho-hum. Guess who's going to the State Tennis Tournament again this year.

No, not Gary Plock because he's finally graduated after winning the State singles title for four consecutive years. Instead, it's Murray High's Mel Purcell who'll be making his sixth trip to the annual affair.

For Purcell, the long line of State Tournament trips began when he was in the fifth grade. Since then, he has gone four times in singles and twice in doubles, including one time when he and his brother, Del, teamed to win the State doubles crown.

Purcell earned his trip to the State Tournament along with the Murray High girl's doubles team as they turned in sparkling performances Sunday afternoon at the Murray State Tennis Complex in the Regional Tournament.

In the singles, Purcell cruised to victory losing only three games the entire tournament. In the doubles, Kathy Outland and Jill Austin teamed to win the title and earned a trip to Louisville.

Last year, Austin became the youngest girl from the First Region to go to the State Tennis Tournament as she won the singles title as an eighth grader. Now, she loses that honor to Kathy Outland, who just completed the seventh grade and is now the youngest girl from the Region to ever go to State.

Austin and Outland were second-seeded in the tourney, behind last year's winning duo of Barbara Pryor and Cheryl Lancaster of Mayfield. But the two were upset Friday by Shari Shepard and Jeanette Rorie of Christian County.

But Shepard and Rorie couldn't continue their success against Outland and Austin. The Murray duo captured the first set 7-5 and took the match by winning the second set 6-3.

In the girl's singles, Mindy Jackson of Henderson City took the championship Sunday by ripping Cathy Summers of Henderson City 6-0 and 6-0. Jackson lost last year in the second round to eventual singles champion Jill Austin.

In the boy's doubles, it was no great surprise as the talented and popular duo of Mark Taylor and John Dallam of Paducah Tilghman claimed the title.

Dallam and Taylor, seeded first in the division, scored an easy 6-2, 6-2 win in the finals Sunday over John Algood and David Johnson of Henderson City. Last year, Taylor teamed with Steve Bright to win the doubles.

For Purcell, it was just another practice session in the singles.

He ripped Kevin Headrick 6-1, 6-0 in the semifinals before mopping up Perry Elder 6-0, 6-2 in the finals. Headrick is from St. Mary while Elder is from Fort Campbell.

Last year, Purcell won the singles title by smashing Judd Brown of Madisonville in the finals.

Purcell makes no secret about his plans for the State Tournament. One word sums it up: Buechler.

Purcell feels he's better than Buechler. And vice-versa. There's no love lost between the two and this weekend in Louisville, they will find out who is the best.

SIXTH TIME—Mel Purcell will be going to the State Tennis Tournament for the sixth time. Purcell easily won the singles championship Sunday in the Region Tournament held at Murray State. (Photo by Mary Smock)

Kentucky League Ready To Open Play Tonight

By JIM BOLLS

The Kentucky League will open its season tonight as the Astros will play a much-improved Cub team at 5:30 p. m.

The Cubs are coached by Sam Wylie, Morris Legg and Edward Garland while the Astros will be coached by Frank Robinson.

Although the starting lineups have not yet been named, the rosters are as follows: For the Cubs: Jerry Bogges, Ricky Barrow, Louis Zimmerman and Mike Garland, all returning from last year and newcomers Diana Duncan, Gene Wilford, Ray Abbott, Steve Priest, Greg Lovett, Bart Washer, and Walter Payne.

Most players for the Astros are returning from last year's team. The roster includes Robert Stout, Phil Resig, Gary Utley, Terry Smotherman, John Scherer, Scot Turner, Dewayne Smith, Randy Wilson, Kirt Albritten, Russell Garland, Dennis West and Ray Ferguson. On Tuesday night, the second round of opening action finds the Nats, last year's Met team, in a battle with the 1974 champion Reds.

On Wednesday, the Yanks get into action by playing the Cubs, which closes out first round action.

Much work has been put forth by the Kentucky League to make this another great year. Both parents and boys should be excited to see even more changes made in the league this season.

All games will begin at 5:30 p. m. and will be played Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights. Rainouts will be made up on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Before each game, there will be a flag service and the playing of the National Anthem. There will also be a public address system used to introduce the teams and lineups.

The purpose of the Kentucky League is to offer a program for those boys who either choose not to play Little League or who lack the advanced skills to play in Little League.

If it were not for the Kentucky League, many boys would not find the joy which comes from playing summer baseball. Coaches train the teams to play baseball and to strive to win but even more important, team play and sportsmanship are highly emphasized.

Francie Larrieu Sets New Mark In Mile-Run

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Francie Larrieu returned home from a successful track tour of China Friday and immediately set a new American record for the women's mile Saturday night at the U.S. Track and Field Federation Championships here.

"I got back from the China trip Friday morning and then went to sleep — for 15 hours straight — that's the longest I've ever slept," she said after posting a 4:31.69 mile. "I would have been happy with 4:36 but the pace was good and I felt good on the first lap so I figured I should give it a go."

The result was a federation record and an American mark for the only woman competing in the meet for the Pacific Coast Club, which won the men's team competition with 91 points followed by Gulf Coast Track Club, the Chicago Track Club and Kansas. Miss Larrieu's mile run broke her own American mark of 4:33.1 set last year.

The other outstanding performance of the USFF meet came from Rick Wohlhuter, world record holder in the half mile and 1,000 meters, who ran a hot 3:53.3 mile to break his own federation mark of 3:55.1 from last year.

The first three laps of the mile run brought the crowd of 5,500 to its feet in anticipation of a new world record. The pace went 59.4 in the first lap, 1:55 in the second and 2:54.8 in the third. Wohlhuter faded in the fourth lap and couldn't muster the 56.1 quarter he needed to break the world mark set only a few weeks ago by Filbert Bayi at 3:51.0.

"I'm sorry I didn't set a world record," the exhausted Chicago Track Club runner said after the race. "I gave it a try and I'm satisfied with that. I ran as hard as I could."

The performances by Wohlhuter and Miss Larrieu were among 16 records in men's and women's competition established during the two-day meet at Wichita State University.

YOUNGEST PLAYER—Kathy Outland will be the youngest girl from the First Region to every play in the State Tennis Tournament. She will be making the trip along with her doubles partner, Jill Austin. Miss Outland just completed the seventh grade. (Photo by Mary Smock)

Baker's Two Homers Provides Spark As Braves Clip Pirates

By HOWARD SMITH

AP Sports Writer

It isn't often that Bobby Murcer and Dusty Baker hit two home runs in a game. The Montreal Expos and Pittsburgh Pirates could have waited one more game for them to do it.

Murcer belted a pair of two-run homers at windy Jarry Park to help the San Francisco Giants pound the Expos 13-5 Sunday while Baker hit a pair of solo shots to lead the Atlanta Braves past the Pirates 5-2.

"That was the first time I hit two home runs this year," said Murcer who has seven on the year. "They don't come too often."

Baker, who has never hit more than 21 in a season but has 10 already this year, insisted: "Really, I don't start hitting home runs until after the All-Star break. This is the third time I've hit two consecutive homers in the majors. I know my stroke is all right when I hit line drives like that."

Los Angeles 7-2 and Cincinnati 4-1.

The Giants struck for 10 runs over the final three innings. By that time, though, Expos' starter Dave McNally was showered and dressed. He worked five innings and gave up three runs.

Willie Montanez also homered for the Giants while Larry Parrish, Gary Carter, Pete Mackanin and Mike Jorgensen connected for Montreal.

Baker's home runs helped Atlanta knuckleballer Phil Niekro raise his record to 5-4 with a 10-hitter. Niekro, Darrell Evans and Ralph Garr all contributed run-scoring singles.

Phillies 5, Astros 4 Philadelphia built a 5-0 lead after five innings, then held on behind Larry Christenson's 3-1-3 innings of scoreless relief. Greg Luzinski and Mike Anderson each doubled home a run and Jay Johnstone homered for the Phils. Tommy Helms had a two-run single for Houston.

Padres 4, Mets 0 San Diego got two runs in the first inning on a pair of walks, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and an error, and the Mets never recovered.

Alan Foster, 3-1, and Danny Frisella combined on a seven-hitter. Mike Ivie singled in one insurance run in the eighth and Dave Winfield doubled home another in the ninth.

Cubs 7, Dodgers 2

Manny Trillo hit a two-run single, Andy Thornton homered and Steve Swisher drove in two runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly as Chicago regained first place in the East Division. Bill Bonham, 5-4, got the win and former Cub Burt Hooton, 3-5, took the loss.

Reds 5, Cards 1

Joe Morgan clubbed a three-run homer and Johnny Bench added a two-run double to power Cincinnati to its ninth victory in the last 10 games. Jack Billingham, 5-3, stopped St. Louis on five hits. The victory pulled the Reds within a half-game of first-place Los Angeles in the West.

The University of Southern California had a record 14 seniors drafted at last January's National Football League draft.

Pirates, Twins And Cubs Get League Wins

Three outstanding games were played in Little League action Saturday night at Gene Cathey Memorial Field.

In the opening contest, a suspended game from Friday, the Twins edged the Yanks 11-10 in nine innings.

The two regular contests found the Cubs clipping the Astros 5-3 while in the last game, the Pirates ripped the Reds 8-2.

The suspended game was perhaps the most exciting of all the games. The game was halted Friday after six innings with the score tied at eight apiece.

Finally in the top of the ninth inning Saturday evening, the Yanks broke the scoring ice. Mark Overbey walked and scored on Dan Thompson's RBI single to break the tie. Following a single by Dan Key, Thompson later scored on a ground out, giving the Yanks a 10-8 lead.

With one out in the home half of the ninth, Sammy Smith reached on a single for the Twins and then Kim Kendall reached base on an error. Barry Alexander, who was credited with the pitching win for the Twins, then ended the game with a three-run homer.

Kim Kendall and Sammy Smith each had three hits for the Twins and both players had three-run homers in the contest. Ben Underwood and Tim Brown each had two hits while Kenny Parrish and Alexander each added one hit.

For the Yanks, Don Hargrove had two hits to pace the attack while Ricky Hargrove, Robert Santagado, Jeff Owens, Dan Thompson and Dan Key all had one hit apiece.

In the first regularly scheduled contest Saturday, the Cubs rallied for two runs in the fifth frame and edged the Astros 5-3.

Kim Wilson hurled three innings and received credit for the win on the mound for the Cubs.

The Cubs came to bat trailing 2-0 in the bottom of the first but trimmed the lead in half and then took the lead as Keith Overbey socked a two-run homer to boost the Cubs to a 3-2 edge.

In the third inning, the Astros tied the count on Scott Hill's run-scoring ground out.

But in the fifth, singles by Mark McCuiston, Darren Hooper and Keith Overbey pushed across two runs and they proved to be the winning margin for the Cubs.

For the winners, Overbey had three hits while Kevin Calvin chipped in with two. Also hitting safely were Darren Hooper, Joel Klein, Kim Wilson and Mark McCuiston.

Randy Mayfield belted three hits to lead the Astros while Mark Smith, Scott Hill and Tony Herndon each had one hit.

In the final contest, Robin Roberts was the star of the game for the Pirates as he pitched and batted his team to their win over the Reds.

Roberts fanned 10 batters and gave up just three hits while rapping three hits himself.

The Pirates scored all the runs they needed in the first inning when they put three on the board. Roberts had a single in the frame while Jamie Morganti had a double. The big blow was a two-run single by Vic Marshall.

Andy Bartholomy, Steve Walker and Jimmy Elkins each had a hit for the Reds. For the Pirates, Roberts' three-paced attack while Marshall had two. Also hitting safely were Darwin Bumphis, Eddie Reaugh and Jamie Morganti.

League action tonight will find the Astros meeting the A's in the 6 p. m. contest while the Twins and Reds play in the nightcap. Tuesday's games will pit the Cubs against the Cards in the opener while the Pirates and Yanks play in the nightcap.

Wins Award

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Goalie Bernie Parent and his Philadelphia Flyers teammates have been named winners of the 15th annual John Wanamaker Award.

The award went Saturday to the Stanley Cup champions as the team whose athletic accomplishments "have done the most to reflect credit upon Philadelphia." The winners get $1,000 and a trophy.

The Flyers were the first U.S.-based team in 20 years to win the National Hockey League championship for two years in a row. The Flyers and team captain Bobby Clarke won the Wanamaker Award last year.

I want to express my sincere thanks to my many friends and supporters for my reelection to the City Council. I pledge to you all my continued service.

The first five months of 1975 brought lower prices for supermarket shoppers, but a new round of increases may be just around the corner, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows.

Sugar and eggs continued to decline during May, following the pattern set in the early part of this year. But the savings for consumers were partially offset by increases in the price of beef and pork, and the Agricultural Department says egg prices will rise in coming months due to a decrease in the supply.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked each succeeding month.

The latest check showed the bill in every city was lower than it was at the start of the year when prices were at or near record highs. On the average, the decline was 8.3 per cent.

Rebecca Tinsley Martin, 18, of Kings Mountain, was killed Saturday when the farm tractor on which she was riding ran off Doe Creek Road and overturned in a ditch about two miles south of Liberty.

Charles David Brown, 14, of Cloverport, drowned Sunday while swimming with friends in a gravel pit near his home, authorities reported.

A Baptist minister from Staffordville and his son drowned Saturday afternoon while on a fishing trip in Lawrence County, in Eastern Kentucky.

Lawrence County Sheriff Dave Compton identified the victims as the Rev. Alfred Frazier Jr. and his son, John Frazier. Compton said the minister was in his 50s. The boy was in his teens, the sheriff said.

The younger Frazier slipped down an embankment into the Big Sandy River, and his father entered the water to try to save him. Both were swept downstream by the current, Compton said. The bodies were recovered later in the day.

Jimmy Pinkston receives two awards for his short story entered in the state Kentucky Federation Woman's Club convention recently. He is the 17-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Pinkston, 1611 Magnolia Drive and wrote the story in his junior English class taught by Mrs. Maurice Humphrey. The Alpha department of the Murray Woman's Club sponsored the contest and gave a cash award. A Silver plate was the state prize. Mrs. Donald E. Jones, second vice president of the club and contest chairman, made the presentation at the general dinner meeting of the club.

Discontent Over Malpractice Insurance Rates Moves Eastward

By The Associated Press

Active discontent over rising malpractice rates, temporarily in abatement on the West Coast, has spread eastward.

As California Medical Association leaders were deciding Sunday that striking doctors should return to work for the time being, doctors in New York began a slowdown to protest the state's new malpractice law.

Malpractice slowdowns also continued in parts of Pennsylvania and Texas. And in Rhode Island, four medical societies voted their support for a strike scheduled to begin June 9.

Initial reports from the New York metropolitan area indicated the first effects of the doctors' offices are normally closed on Sunday.

The doctors are refusing to perform elective surgery or accept new patients until the problem is settled. Many are protesting a new state law creating an underwriting organization and permitting the State Medical Society to create its own insurance company.

The California Medical Association said it would ask doctors to return to work today. But the CMA leaders warned that the month-long work stoppage by physicians may be repeated in September if the state legislature fails to solve the malpractice insurance problem by then.

Doctors in the San Francisco Bay area — many of them anesthesiologists — began a month ago to refuse elective surgery cases until ways were found to cut malpractice insurance costs. Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., who signed malpractice legislation last week has promised to begin an overhaul of the entire system.

There were scattered slowdowns by doctors in San Antonio, Austin, and Fort Worth, Tex., who refused to handle any cases but emergencies. But its effect could not be fully determined because most week-end cases are emergencies.

The same nothing-but-emergencies provision was promulgated by doctors who began a slowdown at three hospitals in Bucks County, Pa. They said they would also perform pre-scheduled operations.

Rhode Island doctors who voted to strike would also adhere to the emergency-only provision.

The legislature has adjourned for the year and Gov. Philip W. Noel has shown no signs of calling it into special session. He says the issue is too complex for quick legislative action.

First Five Months Brings Lower Food Prices; May Be Temporary

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The first five months of 1975 brought lower prices for supermarket shoppers, but a new round of increases may be just around the corner, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows.

Sugar and eggs continued to decline during May, following the pattern set in the early part of this year. But the savings for consumers were partially offset by increases in the price of beef and pork, and the Agricultural Department says egg prices will rise in coming months due to a decrease in the supply.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked each succeeding month.

The latest check showed the bill in every city was lower than it was at the start of the year when prices were at or near record highs. On the average, the decline was 8.3 per cent.

Rebecca Tinsley Martin, 18, of Kings Mountain, was killed Saturday when the farm tractor on which she was riding ran off Doe Creek Road and overturned in a ditch about two miles south of Liberty.

Charles David Brown, 14, of Cloverport, drowned Sunday while swimming with friends in a gravel pit near his home, authorities reported.

A Baptist minister from Staffordville and his son drowned Saturday afternoon while on a fishing trip in Lawrence County, in Eastern Kentucky.

Lawrence County Sheriff Dave Compton identified the victims as the Rev. Alfred Frazier Jr. and his son, John Frazier. Compton said the minister was in his 50s. The boy was in his teens, the sheriff said.
